

This educational event is supported by unrestricted medical education grants from

Young women and HIV

Michelle Bockor

Positively UK

A life with HIV

Michelle Bockor, Positively UK

Conflict of Interest

In relation to this presentation, I declare that I have no conflict of interest

Speakers are required by the Federation of the Royal Colleges of Physicians to disclose conflicts of interest at the beginning of their presentation, with sufficient time for the information to be read by the audience. They should disclose financial relationships with manufacturers of any commercial product and/or providers of commercial services used on or produced for patients relating to the 36 months prior to the event. These include speaker fees, research grants, fees for other educational activities such as training of health professionals and consultation fees. Where a speaker owns shares or stocks directly in a company producing products or services for healthcare this should also be declared. Finally, other conflicts of interest including expert functions in health care or healthcare guidance processes should be declared (eg if the professional is a member of a health board). The Federation considers it good practice to also make speakers' disclosures available in digital format(s) relating to the educational event.

Dear young women living with HIV

My early years

My work in the Positively UK youth project

What healthcare professionals working with young women
should know

Young women living with HIV are powerful

Thank you for listening